How do we listen to and act on your feedback?

The Staff-Student Liaison Committee provides a formal means of communication and discussion between schools/institutes and its students. The committee consists of student representatives from each year in the school/institute together with appropriate representation from staff within the school/institute. It is designed to respond to the needs of students, as well as act as a forum for discussing programme and module developments. Staff-Student Liaison Committees meet regularly throughout the year. Each school/institute operates a Learning and Teaching Committee, or equivalent, which advises the School/Institute Director of Taught Programmes on all matters relating to the delivery of taught programmes at school level including monitoring the application of relevant QM policies and reviewing all proposals for module and programme approval and amendment before submission to Taught Programmes Board. Student views are incorporated in the committee's work in a number of ways, such as through student membership, or consideration of student surveys.

All schools/institutes operate an Annual Programme Review of their taught undergraduate and postgraduate provision. APR is a continuous process of reflection and action planning which is owned by those responsible for programme delivery; the main document of reference for this process is the Taught Programmes Action Plan (TPAP) which is the summary of the school/institute's work throughout the year to monitor academic standards and to improve the student experience. Students’ views are considered in this process through analysis of the NSS and module evaluations.

What academic support is available?

Initial assessment of education and training needs for taught postgraduate students is carried out by the Programme Director and the relevant administrative staff in charge of processing applications for the programme. Induction of new students is coordinated by the relevant Programme Administrator, in the CCLS in coordination with individual Programme Directors. An additional in-sessional introductory law course (non-credit bearing) session will be held for taught postgraduate students in the first two week of the academic session.

All taught postgraduate students in the programme are assigned a personal advisor, who is the student’s primary point of contact for both academic and welfare issues relating to the programme as a whole and the student’s experience at Queen Mary. Advisors oversee the regular progress of advisees through the programme, and help coordinate any intervention that may be necessary between the advisee and other members of the School/College staff (including the School Chair of Examiners). In addition to personal advisors, taught postgraduate students will be assigned supervisors for their dissertations during the second semester of the degree. Supervisors and supervisees will meet, either physically or virtually, at least 3 times (the specifics of which are to be determined by the supervisor and the supervisee) to ensure sufficient progress is being made on the dissertation and that the submitted dissertation will be of a standard required for work at the Masters level.

In addition to pastoral and welfare services offered by the College, CCLS maintain an extensive support network for all students in taught programmes and students on the new programme will have full access to these. Details of the School’s provision in this area can be found in the Handbooks for masters Students produced by CCLS.
