Programme outline
Our BA joint honours programme in English and Drama is an exciting opportunity to study the practice of theatre and performance, and the reading of texts from a broad spectrum of genres and periods. It combines practical and theoretical study in a wide range of interconnected areas, providing you with a variety of approaches to drama and literary studies as active and dynamic subjects. Along with an understanding of how approaches to Drama and English complement one another, you will be encouraged to locate texts and performances in their political, cultural, and historical contexts. You'll also develop your communication and research skills, and skills in working collaboratively. Our staff – leading academics and artists – will work with you to make learning challenging and engaging, and help you to develop as an informed critic, reader and performance maker.

Aims of the programme
The programme aims to:
Joint Aims
1. Provide a coherent, wide-ranging and intellectually stimulating programme of study with a focus on both literary texts and performance (broadly defined to include drama, theatre, performance and live art, as well as the para-theatrical);
2. Provide a programme of study that encourages you to relate dramatic texts and performance to other forms of literary and cultural production;
3. Foster critical reflection on issues of diversity and difference that emerge from the study of and engagement with a range of forms, cultures and values.
4. Offer knowledge and understanding of how the approaches of each discipline might complement one another;
5. Combine critical and historical approaches to the study of dramatic literature with practical approaches to such literature, and by the same token, to take critical and historical approaches to the study of performances;
6. Develop common methodological and theoretical approaches to the study of literature and performance as forms of cultural production, with a particular emphasis on the study of the conditions in which texts are produced;
7. Encourage engagement with a wide variety of critical and theoretical modes of inquiry;
8. Enable the development of independent critical thinking and judgment and to undertake independent research tasks;
9. Develop a range of skills necessary to the effective communication of ideas and arguments;
10. Provide a basis for further study in English, Drama or related disciplines.

English Aims
The programme aims to:
1. Offer an understanding of the history of English as a literary language, and the different purposes to which it has been put over time;
2. Provide an understanding of the history and the specific properties of key literary genres;
3. Offer knowledge and understanding of the wider historical contexts of literary texts, their production and circulation;
4. Provide a range of practical and theoretical approaches to the analysis of literary texts, including at the intersections of English with other disciplines;
5. Provide a curriculum which reflects current research in the field of English Studies, as reflected in the active current research of staff across the Department.

Drama Aims
The programme aims to:
1. Offer knowledge and understanding of the history, practice and theory of drama, of theatre as an institution and a cultural practice and of performance as a form of communication, expression, and socio-political intervention;
2. Make a distinctive contribution to provision internationally, nationally and in London through the programme’s emphases, arising out of staff research interests and professional practice;
3. Provide a curriculum that integrates performance practice with the study of performance theory, criticism and history;
4. Encourage participation in a culture of laboratory research, enabling the use performance as a means for articulating ideas, and to undertake independent research tasks, including practice-based research;
5. Enhance literacy and creativity and the development of skills in theatrical, dramatic and performance analysis, as well as oral and physical expression for the communication of ideas and argument.
6. Enable the development of independent critical thinking and judgment, and provide the basis for further study or employment in performance or related fields.

What will you be expected to achieve?
On completion of this programme you should be able to (see list of Learning Outcomes below):
QMUL Model

The QMUL Model is an innovative teaching and learning initiative that will broaden opportunities for Queen Mary undergraduates within and beyond higher education, supporting them to plan and manage their ongoing professional development. The Model is firmly grounded in the core QMUL values of respect for, and engagement with, the local area and communities, with a distinctive focus on enabling students to make a positive societal impact through leadership in their chosen field. The Model is organised around the key themes of:

- networking
- multi- and inter-disciplinarity
- international perspectives
- enterprising perspectives.

Students are required to study QMUL Model modules to the value of at least 10 credits at each year of undergraduate study. Model modules may be 5, 10 or 15 credits. Model modules are indicated within this programme specification.

In your first year of study, the Model module will be core or compulsory and will be situated within your home School or Institute. In subsequent years, students will be strongly encouraged to study at least one Model module beyond their home discipline(s), which could, for example, be in another School / Institute or area of QMUL or undertaken as a module outside of QMUL.

If Model module information is not provided on this programme specification for all subsequent years of study, this will be identified as your studies continue.

Where a Model module elective can be selected from an approved group of Model modules, no guarantee can be provided that your first choice of Model module will be available.

How will you learn?

Teaching takes a number of forms, including:

*(in Drama) workshops, including physical techniques, use of technologies and materials;
*seminars, involving a variety of forms of group work;
*small-group tutorials;
*lectures;
*screenings;
*writing retreats;
*field trips, performance and gallery visits;
*presentations by and discussions with visiting artists and writers;
*individual guidance and feedback on work;
*group discussion of written and, in Drama, practical work.

Learning is supported by *coherently designed and effectively delivered modules, including guidance on module selection;
*the provision of detailed guidance about reading, viewing and preparation for each module;
*(for Drama) the availability of studio and other rehearsal spaces and appropriate sound and lighting facilities;
*the provision of key reading and visual materials, either in libraries, on the online learning environment, in the bookshop, or as module packs;
*the design of an appropriate range of learning activities and assessment tasks within each module;
*encouraging active participation by all students in seminar discussions and other group work;
*encouraging the use of journals, logs and sketchbooks to develop projects;
*(for Drama) the inclusion in the timetable of scheduled sessions for student-led group and independent learning and the further availability of bookable spaces for students wishing to work outside timetabled sessions;
*opportunities to discuss work and progress with tutors and advisers;
How will you be assessed?

Assessment takes a number of forms within the programme. The nature of the assessment is closely connected to the desired learning outcomes and the mode of teaching within each module.

Forms of assessment in English include:
- essays;
- dissertations and research projects;
- close-reading exercises and critical commentaries;
- bibliographical exercises;
- log books and journals;
- portfolios of essays and related written work;
- seminar presentations;
- critique and feedback sessions;
- reviewing exercises, including book reviews
- multi-media

Forms of assessment in Drama include:
- essays;
- written exercises (e.g. reviews, programme notes, feature articles, keyword definitions, site analyses, design analyses, pilot pieces, encyclopedia entries, blog posts, director's notes, funding applications);
- presentations (group and individual);
- portfolios (written and e-portfolios);
- performance projects (group and individual);
- proposals (for essays and performance projects);
- multi-media (e.g. podcasts, annotated videos, websites);
- dissertation

How is the programme structured?

Please specify the full time and part time programme diets (if applicable). Please also outline the QMUL Model arrangements for each year of study. The description should be sufficiently detailed to fully define the structure of the diet.

Students take 120 credits in each year.

Year 1 (all compulsory):
Year 1 provides a critical and historical framework for the study of English and an introduction to the study of drama and performance which combines practical, critical, theoretical and historical approaches. You'll take:
- DRA114 London/Culture/Performance (15 credits);
- DRA123 Power Plays (15 credits);
- DRA121 Beyond Acting (30 credits).
- ESH102 Reading, Theory and Interpretation (30 credits);
- ESH101 Shakespeare (30 credits);
- ESH125 English in Practice (0 credits)

Progression requirements to Year 2
To progress successfully from Year 1 to Year 2 you must meet the overall credit requirements for progression under the Academic Regulations which apply to you.

Year 2
120 credits (minimum 90 credits at level 5, maximum 30 credits at level 6), normally 60 credits in each semester.
Programme Title: BA (Hons) English and Drama

In English, students select modules from four Lists. Lists 1-3 correspond to the following subject areas: Medieval and Early Modern; Eighteenth Century, Romanticism, and Nineteenth Century; Modern, Postcolonial, and Contemporary. List 4 contains electives from all subject areas.

Select 1 x 30 credit module from List 1 or List 2, and minimum 15 credits from either List 3 or List 4, which may include ESH-prefixed QMUL Model modules.

List 1: a list of up to three modules in the Medieval and Early Modern Subject Area;
List 2: a list of up to three modules in the Eighteenth Century, Romantic, and Nineteenth Century Subject Area;
List 3: a list of up to three modules in the Modern, Contemporary and Postcolonial Studies Subject Area;
List 4: this list includes level 5 English modules not already included in Lists 1 to 3 above. List 4 provision is amended and expanded as modules are proposed, amended, withdrawn and approved through the Queen Mary Quality Assurance processes.

In Drama, select 30 credits from DRA-prefixed 30-credit modules at level 5 and minimum 15 credits/maximum 45 credits from DRA-prefixed 15-credit modules at level 5 to include at least one of DRA273 Culture, Power and Performance (15 credits) or DRA242 Group Practical Project (30 credits), and which may include DRA-prefixed QMUL Model modules. 'Key words' are indicated on Module Directory documentation to facilitate module selection, supported by opportunities for discussion with Personal Advisers.

Your selection of Drama credits may include up to 30 credits of ESH-coded modules where these have been designated as elective(s) for your programme that count toward your Drama credit requirements.

Minimum 0 credits/maximum 30 credits elective modules to be chosen from all modules offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, subject to space available on modules and with the guidance of the student’s adviser, and which may include QMUL Model modules.

Up to 30 credits may be taken at level 6 with the advisers’ agreement.

Selection must include a minimum of 15 credits of QMUL Model modules, which may include DRA- and ESH-prefixed modules (up to 120 credits), BA/LLM/BSc modules in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (maximum 30 credits); Medicine and Dentistry/Science and Engineering QMUL Model modules (maximum 15 credits).

The QMUL Model requirement does not apply if you enrolled in 2019-20 and subsequently.

Normally Year 2 students may not take any modules at level 4 with the exception of level 4 language modules in the School of Languages, Linguistics and Film (30 credits maximum) and level 4 BSc/LMM modules (15 credits maximum), where these fulfill the QMUL Model module requirement.

You may not take more than 30 credits outside DRA- and ESH-prefixed modules.

Progression requirements to Final year
To progress successfully to the Final Year you must meet the overall credit requirements for progression under the Academic Regulations which apply to you.

Final Year
120 credits (minimum of 90 credits at level 6, maximum 30 credits at level 5) and normally 60 credits in each semester; Final Year students may not take credits at level 4.

Students must select at least one of:
DRA329 Written Research Project (30 credits);
DRA344 Practice-based Research Project (30 credits);
ESH6000 English Research Dissertation (30 credits).
You may take ESH6000 and DRA344 but NOT ESH6000 and DRA329.

In English, minimum 45 credits/maximum 75 credits to be chosen from English modules at level 6 (ESH6000 [30 credits] contributes toward the English requirement), which may include ESH-prefixed QMUL Model modules

In Drama, take minimum 45/maximum 75 credits, which may include DRA-prefixed QMUL Model modules.
Select:
Programme Title: BA (Hons) English and Drama

30 credits from DRA-prefixed 30-credit modules (including DRA344 Practice-based Research Project; excluding DRA329 Written Research Project) and minimum 15 credits/maximum 45 credits from DRA-prefixed 15-credit modules (DRA329 Written Research project is equivalent to 2x 15-credit modules).

‘Key words’ are indicated on Module Directory documentation to facilitate module selection, supported by opportunities for discussion with Personal Advisers.

Your selection of Drama credits may include up to 30 credits of ESH-coded modules where these have been designated as elective(s) for your programme that count toward your Drama credit requirements.

Minimum 0 credits/ maximum 30 credits elective modules to be chosen from all modules offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, subject to space available on modules and with the guidance of the student’s adviser, and which may include QMUL Model modules.

Up to 30 credits may be taken at level 5 with the advisers’ agreement.

Selection must include a minimum of 15 credits of QMUL Model modules, which may include DRA- and ESH-prefixed modules (up to 120 credits), BA/LLM/BSc modules in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (maximum 30 credits); Medicine and Dentistry/ Science and Engineering QMUL Model modules (maximum 15 credits).

The QMUL Model requirement does not apply if you enrolled in 2019-20 and subsequently.

You may not take more than 30 credits outside DRA- and ESH-prefixed modules.

What are the entry requirements?

The entry requirements are as stated in the Queen Mary prospectus for current entry, and on the Queen Mary website http://www.qmul.ac.uk/undergraduate/coursefinder/index.html

How will the quality of the programme be managed and enhanced?

The School operates a Teaching and Learning Committee, which considers and advises on all matters relating to the delivery of taught programmes at school level including monitoring the application of relevant QM policies and reviewing all proposals for module and programme approval and amendment before submission to Taught Programmes Board. Student views are incorporated in this Committee’s work in a number of ways, such as through consideration of student surveys.

Each department operates a programme review of its taught undergraduate and postgraduate provision. This review feeds into the School’s Annual Programme Review for undergraduate programmes and for postgraduate taught programmes using the Annual Programme Review pro-forma. Students’ views are considered in this process through analysis of National Student Survey results and module evaluations, and consideration of Staff-Student Liaison Committee minutes. Student representatives (selected across all the School’s taught programmes) are also invited to attend the Annual Programme Review meeting, and the APR document is shared with the SSLCs.

How do we listen to and act on your feedback?

The Student-Staff Liaison Committee provides a formal means of communication and discussion between Schools and its students. The Committee consists of student representatives from each year in the School together with appropriate representation from staff within the School. It is designed to respond to the needs of students, as well as act as a forum for discussing programme and module developments. Student-Staff Liaison Committees meet regularly throughout the year.

Students are given the opportunity to provide feedback through the Module Evaluation system, and through Queen Mary and national surveys.

The School hosts a dedicated page on its online learning environment, designed to highlight the profiles of student representatives, bring together information about student representations and feedback on surveys etc., and forums for updates and consultations.

What academic support is available?

All students beginning study on the programme participate in a series of Welcome Week activities, which involve introductions to the programme and specific inductions in the use of the online learning environment. These events also include opportunities for social interaction, and scheduled small group and individual meetings with personal advisers.

Each student’s academic progress and personal welfare is monitored by an adviser. Advisers are the designated members of staff with whom students can raise issues and problems, and from whom they can seek advice and guidance.

All teaching staff hold regular drop-in hours in which students are actively encouraged to discuss their work and progress.

There are two dedicated posts in the School of English and Drama Administrative team to support students: 1) The Teaching and Student Support Manager works with academic staff to assist students in need of support; 2) The E-Strategy Manager supports students in the use of the online learning environments used on all modules.

Both the Teaching and Student Support Manager and all advisers are able to refer students, where appropriate to relevant professional service departments in the College, including Disability and Dyslexia, Welfare, and Counselling.

The School collaborates with the College’s Thinking Writing team and Language Centre to support students in the development of writing skills. Additional support is provided by the Royal Literary Fund Fellows.

The School hosts a dedicated site on its online learning environment with referencing and writing advice and support.

Programme-specific rules and facts

Specific support for disabled students

Queen Mary has a central Disability and Dyslexia Service (DDS) that offers support for all students with disabilities, specific learning difficulties and mental health issues. The DDS supports all Queen Mary students: full-time, part-time, undergraduate, postgraduate, UK and international at all campuses and all sites.

Students can access advice, guidance and support in the following areas:
Programme Title: BA (Hons) English and Drama

- Finding out if you have a specific learning difficulty like dyslexia
- Applying for funding through the Disabled Students' Allowance (DSA)
- Arranging DSA assessments of need
- Special arrangements in examinations
- Accessing loaned equipment (e.g. digital recorders)
- Specialist one-to-one "study skills" tuition
- Ensuring access to course materials in alternative formats (e.g. Braille)
- Providing educational support workers (e.g. note-takers, readers, library assistants)
- Mentoring support for students with mental health issues and conditions on the autistic spectrum.

In addition, the Department has a dedicated Disability Officer.

Links with employers, placement opportunities and transferable skills

A BA in English and Drama encourages students to develop a life-long love for learning and equips you with a set of rigorous analytical, communication and performance skills, research skills and understanding of the modern world, negotiating and leadership skills that come with the experience of working in groups, and respect for the opinions of others and a willingness to act inclusively. This gives graduates some particularly sought-after qualities in the workplace. Graduates of the English and Drama degree might find employment in areas such as theatre and performance, cultural industries, business, journalism and the media, education, museums and archives, government or public relations.

Students are notified of placement opportunities via our link with QProjects (part of QMUL's Careers Service).

Every year the School see a number of students progress to take higher degrees, both at QMUL and elsewhere.
